MEMORANDUM FOR SECRETARY OF DEFENSE MEETING

What is the role of the PRC(I) under the new Presidential decision on reorganization?

It ought to be to find out what the top policy-makers really have on their mind.

If we give them too much staff, we will not get the principals to engage their minds on this question and give that kind of guidance. We will just have another staff procedure. This is what has happened to the efforts in the past to generate high-level guidance for intelligence.
